Longtime coaching rivals and Pennsylvania high school football Hall of Famers Jim Cantafio and Mike Williams will host their first Hall of Fame QB/WR Camp on June 22 at Manheim Central High School.

Cantafio and Williams have more than 80 years of combined coaching experience and more than 600 victories. Both are members of the Pennsylvania Football Hall of Fame and both are former head coaches in the Pennsylvania Big 33 Game.

Williams was the longtime head coach at Manheim Central. He is currently an assistant coach with the Barons.

Cantafio was a head coach in the L-L League at Conestoga Valley and Wilson and an offensive coordinator at Lancaster Catholic. He was also head coach at Wyoming Valley West and Cedar Cliff.

Williams won a PIAA Class AAA title in 2003 and guided the Barons to state title games in 2004 and '09. Cantafio coached the Buckskins to a Triple-A state title appearance in 1991.

Both have coached several all-state players who went on to star in the collegiate ranks and play pro ball and in the NFL, Dan Kreider and Chad Henne among them.

Williams' former quarterback, Matt Nagy, is now an offensive coordinator with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Registration on June 22 is from 9 to 10 a.m. and instruction follows from 10 until noon. Lunch is provided from noon to 1 p.m. and instruction continues from 1 to 3 p.m.

The camp is open to all players ages youth through high school.

Phillies' Ryan Howard (6) is congratulated by third base coach Juan Samuel, left, on his sixth-inning solo home run Tuesday.

PHILADELPHIA 1, ST. LOUIS 0

Howard's solo HR is difference

Nola pitches 7 solid innings to even mark

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Aaron Nola threw seven innings and Ryan Howard homered to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals on Tuesday night.

Philadelphia has won seven of eight while St. Louis has lost five of six.

Jeanmar Gomez recorded his ninth save in as many opportunities after Hector Neris struck out the side in the eighth inning.
